NAZI WAR CRIMES DISCLOSURE ACT
DATE 2001 2008

On July 22, 1965, Vice Consul W. P. CLAPPIN, American Consulate, Tijuana, B.C., Mexico, advised that on July 7, 1965, JORGE BALBANERA, a construction worker residing 734 Avenida Negrete (Int.) Number 5, Tijuana, B.C., Mexico, visited the office of the Consulate General.

BALBANERA stated he arrived in Tijuana from Queretaro, Mexico, approximately two weeks previous. He stated he had read an article concerning Nazi leader MARTIN DORMANN in the Spanish language edition of "Readers Digest," the May, 1965, issue, and believed he had information concerning the whereabouts of DORMANN.

BALBANERA related that he had been working on a construction project at Jalpan, Queretaro, in February and March, 1965. There he had seen a man who matched the description of MARTIN DORMANN. He stated that the man, apparently of German extraction, was known as MANUEL DOGIN (phonetic). This individual operated a guest house known as Posada Jalpan in Jalpan, Queretaro, and also worked as a dentist in that community.

BALBANERA related that DOGIN had apparently been in Jalpan for approximately 18 or 20 years.
